

No “one-size fits all”: Violence in Intimate Partner Relationships

By

Jacqueline Steyn, LPC

Description of Presentation

Participants will learn about the range of both male and female perpetrated violence that can occur in intimate partner relationships and the overlap with substance abuse.

Objectives

- 1) Participants will identify different typologies of violence occurring in intimate partner relationships.
- 2) Participants will review five (5) ways in which domestic violence and substance abuse overlap.

Bio

Jacqueline Steyn is a domestic violence professional with 15 years of experience in the field. She is the Program Manager for the Oklahoma Domestic Violence Fatality Review Board at the Office of the Attorney General. She was formerly the Chief Programs and Compliance Officer at the YWCA Oklahoma City. She is a Licensed Professional Counselor and has practiced as a mental health professional for over 25 years in a variety of inpatient and outpatient settings. She has held various academic posts and is currently on faculty at OSU-OKC in the Crime Victims Services program. Ms. Steyn trains victim advocates, batterer intervention group facilitators, mental health and substance abuse professionals, child welfare workers, attorneys and court personnel. She is a past and present member of several committees, taskforces and commissions with the specific intent to improve safety and services for victims of domestic violence and their children.

